

Introduction

Many have called out in prayer for answers and insights into the experience of transformation that has become a fact of life in these times. Many have undergone radical changes that have shaken their very world to its core. And, it would appear that many still flounder, unaware of the underlying cause of the upheaval in their lives.

It was very much a part of the Divine Plan that teachings be provided from the world of Spirit that reach into the essence of those issues and touch the very heart of the transformational process. These teachings have been provided, as an outstretched hand, to those in the throes of that transition. For, as you will come to understand, you are, most assuredly, not alone.

Much has been written that would put into historical perspective some of the underlying dynamics that formed the foundation for what is transpiring in the microcosm and macrocosm of your world. These monumental changes, now occurring at an unprecedented rate of acceleration, have left many unprepared for the life-altering events taking place simultaneously within the depths of the planet and within the depths of those who are attuned to her accelerating vibration. We have chosen to return to your realm in consciousness to address those concerns, and provide practical guidance that might not be available in any other way.

In the years that have transpired since the original transcription of these teachings, there has been considerable speculation, on the part of some who feel they have a vested interest in the identity of this source, to dismiss the possibility that we would choose to return in these times in this way. In so doing, these ones have provided for themselves a forum for examining their own fears and frustrations with the limitations of a structure within which they struggle to find relevance.

Caught in the dramas of radical spiritual transformation, one experiences a pressing need to integrate theoretical understandings with the down-to-earth practical applications that life and living provide. Those concerns were not addressed in the practical detail now needed, a generation ago, when a large body of metaphysical understanding was provided by this Source, in this way.

As with so many attempts throughout history to impart information relevant to the times at hand, the teachings that were provided came to be embodied as yet another religion that deifies the messenger and dogmatizes the sacred Essence imparted. It is absolutely essential that the distinction be made at this juncture between the Divine teachings that were provided and the structure imposed by a hierarchy that grew in grandeur in the name of that message.

We have chosen to return in consciousness, in these times, to translate the essence of that information into practical terms that can be applied across barriers of culture. We have chosen to provide the straightforward guidance that is so needed in these times, outside the structural hierarchy of any organized religion. For, these times represent the transcending of such concepts and the cohesiveness of uniting in Oneness with all of Creation. We do not limit our own participation in these times to any one cultural or spiritual perspective, but will continue to speak through sources such as this one, in order to provide the breadth of understanding these times require.

We come as teacher and as friend, to help you navigate the rapids on which you ride, toward a destination that, perhaps, you have only begun to fathom. This lifetime is the culmination of everything you, as a soul, have done, everywhere you have been, every thought, every nuance—every blessed breath of your Eternal Being. The present identity, within which an unprecedented metamorphosis transpires, is the one which will ultimately carry you to the heights of human experience—if you choose to go. These teachings are provided, as a Love offering, to those who have chosen to embrace that challenge.

We are Amitabh, God of Infinite Light. And we are here with you now.
